William Burding Jr. NTP is executive vice president and general counsel for Orange Coast Title Company and its Family of Companies. In addition to his legal responsibilities, he is a member of the company's Executive Committee and oversees its Nevada operations, which are among the state's largest providers of title related services. Prior to joining Orange Coast Title in 1998, William was the chief operating officer and general counsel for a Colorado-based title company specializing in large multi-state commercial transactions.

William is a member of the American Land Title Association's Board of Governors. He is chair of the association's Abstracters and Title Insurance Agents Section Executive Committee, serves on the Government Affairs Committee, Best Practices Executive Committee and Information Security Committee, and is past chair of the Title Industry Political Action Committee. He earned ALTA's National Title Professional Designation in 2017. William also is active in numerous state land title associations, including the California Land Title Association, where he was awarded the 2010 and 2016 President's Awards for outstanding contribution to the California title insurance industry.

He graduated cum laude with a bachelor's degree in Political Science from Whittier College and received his juris doctorate from Loyola Law School-Los Angeles. A frequent lecturer and author in various publications, William is licensed to practice law in California and Colorado.
