

Rick Triola

Founder/CEO, NotaryCam, Inc.

C. Richard Triola is CEO and founder of NotaryCam, Inc. Rick has spent the past 30 years in the real estate industry in New York and California. He is a licensed real estate professional, an executive at one of California's largest independent escrow settlement companies, founder/CEO of an eSigning company called Settleware® and currently holds four U.S. and international patents. His experience made clear the need for a web-enabled electronic Notary service. Rick started NotaryCam to change the way documents get notarized and to remove all the associated friction with closings. The result is NotaryCam's virtual signing room eClose360®, allowing any parties to attend the closing ceremony online from anywhere in the world while deploying the industry's highest level of security and ID authentication.